

James Green is Professor of History and Labor Studies at the University of Massachusetts Boston. He is the author of several books on labor history including, Death in the Haymarket: A Story of Chicago and the First Labor Movement.

As a labor educator, he has offered workshops form many unions including the UMWA. He was associate producer of Out of Darkness, The Mine Workers¹ Story.

He is past president of the Labor and Working Class History Association and the recipient of the 2009 Labor History Award from the Sidney Hillman Foundation. He is currently writing a new history of the West Virginia mine wars due for publication in the fall of 2012.